

Need a TF-CBT Booster?

Trauma-Focused Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (TF-CBT) is an evidence-based psychotherapy approach designed to treat posttraumatic stress and related emotional and behavioral difficulties in children and adolescents.

Advanced Training builds on TF-CBT Basic Training to provide clinicians with deeper knowledge of TF-CBT and its application in therapy. Through this training, clinicians will benefit from the expertise of Dr. David Hong as well as the opportunity to practice their clinical skills with others. By exploring the use of TF-CBT in a variety of situations, this training equips clinicians to apply TF-CBT in even the most complex and difficult cases.

Dates: July 29 & 30

Cost: $170 Format: Online

CEUs:
6.5 hours

Trainer:

Dr. David Hong, PsyD, LP

Dr. Hong is a nationally certified trainer and practitioner of TF-CBT. He earned a doctoral degree from the Minnesota School of Professional Psychology. Dr. Hong specializes in services for children, adolescents and immigrant populations with a focus on trauma. In his 10+ years he has trained domestically and internationally, recently providing the very first TF-CBT training to clinicians in the Philippines.

Who should take this training?

Advanced Training is designed for those who have completed TF-CBT Basic Training. This training may be attended as a booster for anyone interested in strengthening their understanding and practice of TF-CBT. It is appropriate for those who have never attended Advanced Training or who attended Advanced Training several years ago, as the content of this training evolves over time.

Register here: www.washburntraininginstitute.org/advancedtfcbt

Or register for
TF-CBT Basic Training on June 23 - 25:
washburntraininginstitute.org/tfcbt

Questions? Contact:

traininginstitute@washburn.org